

The Book of Colossians

By Dn Yonnas · Scripture · Youth & Young Adults

Summary

Christ is supreme and Christ is enough. St. Paul warns the Colossians against every 'Christ + something' religion — extra rules, spiritual highs, human philosophies, or a reduced Christ — and calls the Church to stay rooted in the One in whom all the fullness of God dwells, putting sin to death and putting on holiness.

Lesson Objectives

- Confess the supremacy of Christ: Creator, Sustainer, Head of the Church, fullness of God
- Recognize the four 'Christ +' distortions and how they appear today
- Apply Colossians 3: set the mind above, put off the old life, put on love

Key Bible Verses

Colossians 1:15–17 — the image of the invisible God; in Him all things consist

Colossians 2:9–10 — "in Him dwells all the fullness of the Godhead bodily; and you are complete in Him"

Colossians 3:14 — "put on love, which is the bond of perfection"

Main Teaching Points

- Christ is Creator, not created; He holds everything together — including you
- Beware teachings that sound deep but quietly move Christ from the center
- Fasting and rules serve the faith; they must never replace humility, mercy, and love
- Holy Tradition is not the same as human tradition or cultural preference
- Reducing Christ to a moral teacher or the sacraments to mere symbols empties the faith
- Holiness is not only what you stop — it is what you become

Key Terms

- Supremacy of Christ — Christ as Creator, Sustainer, Head of the Church, and fullness of God (Col 1:15–18; 2:9).
- Holy Tradition — The living faith handed down in the Church — distinct from human customs or outside philosophies.
- Vain philosophy — Teaching that sounds wise and spiritual but pulls believers away from Christ's sufficiency (Col 2:8).

Discussion & Reflection

- What are some 'Christ + something else' teachings you have encountered?
- How can we honor fasting and tradition without turning them into the whole faith?
- What does 'if Christ is Lord, He is Lord of your Monday too' mean in your week?
